I am grateful for the opportunity provided

I am fortunate enough to have been awarded a full scholarship for my master's programme. This support has played an essential role in making my academic pursuits financially feasible. I am grateful for the opportunity it provides.

Regarding the cost of studying in the master's programme I have chosen, the scholarship covers tuition and a portion of living expenses which significantly reduces the overall financial constraints. It allows me to focus on my studies and contributes fully to the academic community without the added stress of extensive financial concerns.

Under Erasmus Mundus Programme for NOHA Joint Master's there is only 1 scholarship currently being awarded for the Central Asian region.
